

River Valley Library District Rock Island County, IL

River Valley Library District 2010 Census Population - 5,173

Methodology:

Population data was gathered by using Geographic Information System (GIS) software to display 2010 Census block boundaries with associated population. The Census blocks were overlaid with parcel boundaries from Rock Island County GIS showing the parcels that are taxed to the River Valley Library District. A selection was made of those Census blocks whose centroids fell within the library district parcels. The population of the Census blocks selection was then summed. Note: These two layers didn't match exactly, so some blocks may have been only partially contained within the library district. Only the blocks whose centroids were within the library district were used for gathering population data.
